College Policy restricts J-Term load to 4 credit hours, with an addition of a 1-credit HES 110 Skills course allowed (5 credit hours total). Exceptions to this policy are only made in very rare instances. Only students with a grade point average of 3.00 should consider a class load in excess of 4 hours in a J-Term.  The average annual class load for full-time students is 33 semester hours. This includes courses taken during the full semester, January term, and spring semester. This review is based on academic load only. Students must consult with the Financial Services office to inquire about extra hours changes.  Extra hours charges are assessed in the spring semester for each hour of credit attempted in excess of 36 hours for the year (Fall+January + Spring). Please refer to the Financial Services website at: https://www.huber.edu/financial-services/student/ for additional information about the extra receit hours calculation.
